Re: Dantzler v. TPSB, USDC EDLa No. 2:20-cv-02960, Sect. A(1): Notice of Withdrawal

Dear Dr. Dantzler:

I am in receipt of your letter, dated July 3, terminating me as your counsel of record in the above captioned matter.

I will be filing a motion to withdraw as your counsel of record in this matter per your stated intent, and I will be attaching your correspondence of July 3, as well as a redacted copy of this correspondence, as exhibits to said motion. I will make arrangements to provide you with a complete electronic copy of your file, which I hope to have to you by the end of this week.

Regarding status of your case: there are three things that require relatively quick attention. First, defendants have filed a motion to compel production of your federal tax returns. That motion has been set for submission for Wednesday, July 27, 2022, which means that an opposition memorandum must be filed with the Court no later than Monday, July 18, 2022. You certainly can obtain an extension of time to submit your opposition, but you will need to obtain defense counsel's consent for said extension.

In addition to these particular points, this is to advise that the scheduling order has recently been updated and the trial of this matter has been continued and reset for Monday, December 12, 2022. The scheduling order provides that “[c]ounsel can confer and agree to any other deadlines that require adjustments so long as the new motion, pretrial, and trial dates provided are not impacted.”

Per my obligation under LR 83.2.11, this is to advise that the new scheduling order also provides the following specific deadlines:

Final submission date for motions: October 12, 2022;

Joint Pre Trial Order due: November 15, 2022;

Pre Trial Conference: November 17, 2022 at 10:30 a.m.

As for all other deadlines, as mentioned before, the Court has advised that “counsel can confer and agree to any other deadlines that require adjustment so long as the new motion, pretrial and trial dates provided are not impacted. The other current deadlines that are subject to adjustment are as follows:

Submission date for motions in limine: August 8, 2022.

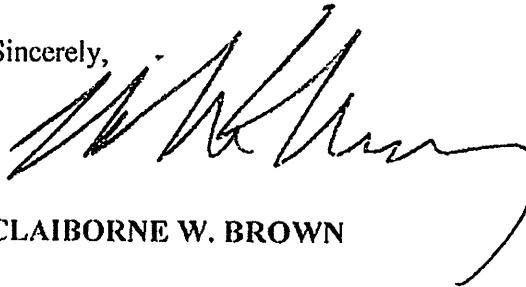

If you have any additional questions, please do not hesitate to contact me. Also, if you have obtained substitute counsel, please have them contact me immediately, as that would minimize the disruption that will most likely result from this transition.
